

Colorado Springs World Affairs Council
P.O. Box 608
Colorado Springs, CO 80901

SYMPOSIUM

Radical Islam: What Do We Need to Know?

Join us for a critical appraisal of a critical time in the lives of all Americans—as well as for the nation itself.

We are at war with an entity that we do not know how—or are unwilling - to identify. Who is it? Where is it? Why is it our 'enemy'?

It is a war that challenges our very way of life, if for no other reason than the people who are trying to kill us say that it is.

Yet our national "debate" suggests that we are arguing answers before agreeing on what the question is.

Colorado Springs is privileged to have enormous resources in its academic, military and retirement communities that are vitally involved with the confrontation that we are facing. We will have representatives from Colorado College, the United States Air Force Academy and United States Northern Command helping us to define the adversary and to explain his motivations, his capabilities and his strategy - all to enable us to have more informed opinions on world events.

Panelists:

- Iqbal S. Akhtar - U.S. Northern Command Analyst-in-Residence/Instructor, United States Air Force Academy; B. A. in Jewish, Islamic and Near Eastern Studies, Washington University; Master of Arts in International Relations - Islamic Political Theory; Tulane Univ.; Master of Arts in Religious Studies - Islamic Theology, in progress; David L. Boren Graduate Fellowship Research Grant, Islamabad, Pakistan; author, "Democratic Cycles: A Case Study of Islam and Democracy in Pakistan"; "American Muslims and U.S. Foreign Policy"; languages - Arabic, Spanish, Urdu.

- Katherine M. Bukolt - Senior Analyst for Terrorist Threats, Directorate of Intelligence, Headquarters North American Aerospace Defense Command and United States Northern Command; European Command's Joint Analysis Center and Office of the Coordinator for Counterterrorism, U.S. Dep't of State; United States Naval Reserve Intelligence; Master's Degree, Middle Eastern Studies, University of Chicago; languages - Arabic, French.

- Robert D. Lee - Colorado College Professor of Political Science with a Middle East specialty. Member, Middle East Studies Association, The American Institute for Maghrib Studies and The Middle East Institute; Master's Degree and PhD in Political Science, Columbia University; author "Overcoming Tradition and Modernity: the Search for Islamic Authenticity"; translator of "Mohammed Arkoun's Rethinking Islam: Common Questions, Uncommon Answers"; languages - Arabic, French and Italian.

Moderator:

- Whitney H. Galbraith - Master of International Affairs, Columbia University; Political Analyst, Central Intelligence Agency; U.S. Naval Reserve Intelligence Unit, Washington, D.C.; Instructor, honorarium, University of Colorado at Colorado Springs, "The Function of Intelligence in the Foreign Policy Process" and "The History of Communism."

Date: Saturday, August 25, 2007
Time: 10:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m.
Cost: $30.00 (includes luncheon buffet)
Registration a must by August 20th
Location: The Pikes Peak Center, Studio Bee
 190 South Cascade Avenue
 Colorado Springs, Colorado
 Enter at north entrance for Studio Bee
Registration can be made by calling PILLAR at 633-4991 or mailing a check to 30 East Rio Grande, CSC, 80903

The Symposium is hosted by

PILLAR Institute of Lifelong Learning

Co-Sponsors are

UCCS Center for Homeland Security

World Affairs Council